AIM OF THE CONFERENCE

Antibiotic resistant infections are expected to lead to 10 million deaths per annum worldwide by 2050. The WHO produced global report on antimicrobial resistance in 2014, highlighting the importance of restricted use of antibiotics on a global scale. The battle is on for researchers to discover novel antibiotics to deal with antimicrobial resistance. As an alternative, antibiotic resistance breakers (non- antibiotic drugs) should be identified. Biomarkers are widely used for diagnosis and prognosis of diseases. To throw light on antibiotic resistance and biomarkers, the School of Life Sciences at B.S Abdur Rahman Crescent Institute of Science & Technology, Chennai in association with University of Missouri, USA is planning to organize International conference on Novel Antibiotic Resistance Breakers and Diagnostic Biomarkers on 22-23 December 2017 at the B. S. Abdur Rahman Crescent Institute of Science & Technology premises.
